The new eSchenker: Your electronic key to transparent logistics.

The new eSchenker web portal is the most advanced logistics solution we've ever made. It combines enhanced existing eSchenker features with powerful new eServices. They provide everything you need to manage your logistics processes efficiently, quickly and conveniently in one place. Whatever the transport mode and wherever your business takes you.

Everything covered. In one place.

eSchenker incorporates all transport modes in one eBusiness portal – from land transport to global air and ocean freight, to contract logistics. It also gives you all the tools you need to manage all stages of the shipment process – from scheduling and pricing through to booking, tracking, invoicing, reporting, and more. It's web-based too so it is accessible on all your devices with instantaneous real-time information whenever you need it. All with one single point of access. All things considered, it brings you convenience with a capital C.

Adapts to work the way you do.

When it comes to logistics, one size certainly does not fit all. The eSchenker web portal can be adapted into the perfect size to suit you and your business. In fact, we think of ourselves as an extension of your business, mirroring and supporting your internal infrastructure and ways of working. You can customize the features on a modular basis to fit in with your existing structures, and personalize settings to suit your requirements – no matter how big your shipment volumes and how complex your workflows.

More transparency. More control.

The big picture on the one hand, and comprehensive details on the other – eSchenker gives you round-the-clock access to both. It consolidates information and makes it visible at all stages of all processes, from source to delivery. So you can always see everything you need to know in seconds, anywhere you need it, and react faster as a result.

Created for simplicity.

The new eSchenker portal is designed with an innovative dashboard layout with drag and drop functionality that is absolutely intuitive to use and customized to your needs. When it comes to repetitive day-to-day tasks, you will also benefit from automated templates incorporating your address book and archive. Managing complex shipments has never been this simple.

Save time. Save costs.

Your resources are your most valuable commodity – we understand that. We also know that supply chains and production processes are becoming ever more complex – and time-consuming – in an increasingly globalized world. The new eSchenker web portal delivers even more powerful technologies designed to streamline your workflows. It's the new sophisticated yet simplified approach to logistics management – and it will save you both time and money.

eSchenker accelerates and optimizes your business. Sustainably.

Built around a powerful architecture of features, the eSchenker portal helps you at every step of the logistical process with simple, seamless and often automated functionalities. Whether you're coordinating shipments by land, ocean or air, and wherever they are headed.

Become a Customer

Whether you are a new or an existing customer of DB Schenker Logistics, this is your easy and fast registration process: One registration and one access point for all available eServices worldwide.

Scheduling

The new eSchenker gives you full access to the timetables for all DB Schenker's groupage services in Europe – for all lead times in European land transport. Simply select the countries and enter the respective postal codes of the origin and destination and you will receive the information you require about specific transit times in seconds – to optimize you planning processes.

Pricing

Enter your parameters and receive instant and competitive quotations with clearly structured pricing models. You can also save valuable time here thanks to template functionality that allows you to save and re-use past entries. We are in the process of developing one central pricing module enabling you to obtain a quote and proceed directly with a booking on a global scale – for all transport modes.

Booking

Available for all means of transportations, land, air and ocean, online booking with eSchenker is fast and efficient: All relevant booking data and shipment-related documents can easily be maintained in the booking creation process. The new flexible eSchenker booking set-up offers you the possibility to adapt your own booking management exactly to your business workflow. Save bookings for later finalization, use standard booking templates, maintain your latest bookings, and contact your responsible DB Schenker branch or manage your individual address book.

Order Handling

eSchenker Order is DB Schenker's latest offering in the field of order management and visibility – from customer order right through to final shipment booking. Its user-friendly web interface gives DB Schenker's customers real-time access to their order and shipment data. The eService also supports online collaboration between DB Schenker, its customers, their suppliers, and carriers. This fully integrated application lets you enjoy more flexibility and transparency than ever before when managing your orders for air and ocean freight.

Document Management

Support features help you to manage your shipment documents: Advanced Tracking and Booking eServices provide the ability to upload and view documents related to your shipment or booking. Invoice Delivery provides quick and easy access to invoice and shipment documents included in the invoice.

Tracking

The easy-to-use eSchenker tracking tool gives you real-time information about the location and status of your shipment, and its current estimated time of delivery. Allocation of a tracking number means that you can access detailed shipment data online without having to log in. Our tracking technology has now been upgraded with an even more detailed overview and status information for each of your shipments.

Advanced Tracking

Benefit from eSchenker's advanced tracking module for land transport, air and ocean freight. It provides a secure environment with complete shipment details for all partners in your logistics chain, subject to authorization. A range of advanced search methods always leads you straight to the information you're looking for. Other new features dedicated to maximum efficiency here include the downloading of tracking results, document uploads, access to the signed proof of delivery or ePOD, and container management.

Inventory Visibility

This powerful module gives you a detailed overview of your inventory, Advanced Shipping Notice (ASN), and receipt and shipment within the 4-walls area. It acts as a centralized repository that is fed by different warehouses managed by DB Schenker Logistics across different countries and regions – ensuring that you can always operate with the advantage of having the full picture at your fingertips.

Alerting/Notification

You have full control over the timing and frequency of automated e-mail notifications you wish to receive for single or multiple shipments, projects and trade lanes proceeding to plan. Similarly, if anything untoward or unexpected happens during the shipping schedule, you can also select how and when you wish to be informed with alerts.

Invoice Delivery

Optimize your invoice management – thanks to this module that links your invoicing activities directly with the respective shipments and tracking information. This tool lets you quickly and easily retrieve digital copies of your invoice documents. (This eService requires special authorization.)

Payment

You even have the option of saving yet more time by handling all your associated financial transactions through the online eSchenker portal, which allows you make payments using secure online payment. (This eService requires special authorization.)

Reporting

The standardized eSchenker reporting module gives you transparency along the entire supply chain – by allowing you to generate pre-defined standard reports for shipments, performance, finance or emissions in an instant – for all transport modes and services. You have the freedom to decide just how comprehensive and detailed you wish these reports to be – and can e-mail, download or print out your customized reports whenever you wish.

News

Our News eService keeps you in the loop about new features, releases and other general information. Simply subscribe to stay automatically informed about all the latest eSchenker developments.

Collaboration

Our sophisticated collaboration feature allows you to share files inside the new eSchenker portal. If your business requires a substantial amount of data exchange, we highly recommend you register for this interactive feature and start reaping the rewards for your business.

Emission Calculator

This easy-to-use eService lets you calculate carbon footprints for specified shipment contingents – in emission reports that can either be generated ad hoc or scheduled for automatic delivery. They are available in different layout formats, and can be customized in terms of entry field selections.
